CONTEXT

Nowadays, In Palamós town, near Pots beach, there is a free camping zone where caravans and tents can be placed during all the year. People who go camping there don't pay any fee but they do not have any service. They usually stay there for a couple of days.

There is a new project for a glamping site in that area. It will fit 53 luxurious bungalows with sea views and all commodities inside: heating, air conditioning, full bathroom, fully equipped kitchenette, smart TV with Netflix, fast Wi-Fi. There will be some common areas: spa, swimming-pool with salted water and a café. The construction will be designed by one of the best architecture buffets awarded for its sustainable projects.
